BRITAIN CLOSES MEDITERRANEAN TO ALL BRITISH SHIPPING; HITLER SURE TO REJECT DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS

Belief is That Hitler Has Not Yet "Pulled the Last Rabbit Out of His Hat"—Likelihood of Some Basis for A Compromise Will Be Found—Conviction Grows That Germany Has Lost Europe's "War of Nerves."

(By Charles A. Smith, I. N. S. Correspondent)

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Europe's frenzied preparations for war reached a breath-taking climax today when Great Britain closed the Mediterranean and Baltic seas to all British shipping. Holland mobilized her armed forces and France awaited a final order calling every last available man to the tri-color.

At the same time the British parliament was called back from vacation and summoned to meet at 9.45 a. m., e. d. t., tomorrow. It was understood the session would be a brief one. Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax remained at No. 10 Downing Street throughout the morning, supervising transcription of the complicated draft of Britain's reply to Hitler, which the Cabinet has now unanimously approved.

Downing Street sources said there was scant likelihood of Anglo-German exchanges being made public tonight. Instead it was said Chamberlain will make the "fullest possible" statement covering all events before Parliament tomorrow.

While Downing Street continued to warn against speculation it was learned that Britain stands firmly in defense of Poland.

Chamberlain's communication will inform Germany that Britain cannot agree to surrender of Danzig, or abolition of Anglo-Polish pact as a prerequisite to any negotiations.

The Cabinet of Prime Minister Chamberlain met in a tense 50-minute session during which Sir Neville Henderson, the British Ambassador to Germany, was given final instructions for his return to Berlin.

No communique was issued at the conclusion of the Cabinet meeting, but it was learned no immediate convocation had been arranged. The British Government apparently felt that everything possible had been done, and that if war must come the Empire is now ready for it.

WARSAW—Unanimous conviction that Germany has lost Europe's "war of nerves," and that real conflict hangs in the balance, was expressed by Warsaw newspapers today.

LONDON—British Ambassador Sir Neville Henderson will fly back to Berlin this afternoon, bearing Great Britain's formal reply to Reichsfuehrer Hitler's Polish proposal, it was officially announced at 10.20 a. m., eastern daylight time, today.

WARSAW—General mobilization was ordered by the German Government in East Prussia today, according to word received in Warsaw.

BERLIN—A squadron of heavy German bombers flew over Berlin in bombing and anti-aircraft practice today, for the first time since the crisis began.

BRUSSELS—The British and French Ambassadors today informed King Leopold that Belgium's neutrality will be firmly respected in event of war.

By Pierre J. Hiss

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

BERLIN—Chancellor Hitler, authoritative quarters said today, is certain to reject Britain's plan for direct Berlin-Warsaw negotiations.

But the last 24 hours have indicated that Hitler has not yet "pulled the last rabbit out of his hat," and there is a likelihood that some basis for a compromise will be found, with a resultant truce.

This might enable representatives of the major powers to come together over a council table—if such arrangements are found possible.

Premier Mussolini of Italy is bringing strong pressure to bear for such a parley—yet at the same time he is fully backing up Hitler.

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

Included in the collection of folk art presented by Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to the Museum of Modern Art, New York, is a copy of the painting "The Peaceable Kingdom," painted by Edward Hicks, of Newtown, long regarded as one of the best painters of that type of picture, known as a primitive. Another of Hicks' paintings, "The Residence of David Twining in 1787," was among gifts.

Hicks, a carriage painter and builder, was a Quaker preacher, and so confined himself largely to religious subjects because he regarded the paintings of pictures as one of the vanities of the world.

The New York Times, in describing the collection uses a three column reproduction of "The Peaceable Kingdom."

School bells will be sounding at Feasterville on Tuesday, September 5, at nine o'clock, calling the pupils back for the new term.

Mrs. Traub will not be connected with the school, leaving after her years of successful and co-operative work. Miss Baxter, of Burholme, will be the teacher of the third and fourth grades and Miss Worstall will be in charge of the first and second. Miss Seidt and Mrs. Rhoads, who before her marriage was Miss Haldeman, will resume their usual classes.

School authorities emphasize the necessity for the presentation of a birth and vaccination certificate on the first day of school, by the children entering school for the first time. These certificates must be presented before the children will be admitted to classes.

The Pineville Grange will hold its annual picnic at Neely's Mill, near New Hope, today.

A picnic lunch will be served at noon, and the afternoon will be devoted to a program of sports.

A very industrious group got together during the summer and re-organized the South Langhorne Fire Company Auxiliary.

The success of their efforts is shown by the membership of over 100 paid members. Meetings are held at the fire house on the first and third Monday evenings of each month. Everyone is invited to participate in the affairs. The newly elected officers are: Eva Morasch, president; Hazel Lukens, vice-president; Lillian Tivey, secretary, and Rose O'Brien, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Squyres, Langhorne, enjoyed a cruise down the Delaware through the Delaware and Chesapeake canal Tuesday in the cruiser of Dr. William Noe. At Chesapeake City, Md., they were met by Dr. Noe and family, who had motored down, and proceeded from there on their vacation outing by water. Mr. and Mrs. Squyres motored back to Langhorne. On the way they stopped off at Wilmington, to visit the city in which they resided some years ago before coming to Bucks County.

ATHLETIC FIELD AT MORRISVILLE FINISHED

Running Track Expected To Be Fastest in This Section

TO BUILD GRANDSTAND

MORRISVILLE, Aug. 28.—Morrisville High's new athletic plant, the Robert Morris Athletic Field, will have one of the fastest tracks in this section, school officials said today. Work on the field was completed during the past week.

A mixture of cinders and clay, it is said, will make the track very "springy" and suitable for fast times in all events. The entire field is practically completed, with work being finished now on the refreshments stand, tool shed and other minor fixtures. Three galvanized tin booths have been erected for ticket offices, two on West Hendrickson avenue and one on Harper avenue. All pavement and gutter work on these two streets has also been completed.

Work will start shortly on the erection of the grandstand adjacent to the track. Estimated to seat 1,000, it will be constructed of wooden material and take three to four weeks to complete. Student funds will be used for its erection so that it will be ready for Morrisville's first home football game this fall.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

"Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc."

War and Public Opinion

August 26. THERE IS one result of the Nazi-Soviet agreement which perhaps has not been given the consideration it deserves—to wit, the effect upon popular opinion in this country. Stunned as the Russian-German understanding apparently was to England and France, there is a certain compensation for these menaced democracies in the reaction on this side of the Atlantic. Few will question that it has strengthened their cause here.

IN THE United States public sentiment counts more effectively than anywhere else. Politicians cannot do very much or get very far without either making it or

SUGGESTS YARDLEY BRIDGE BE BUILT

Keystone Auto Club Head Says It Can Be Done With WPA Aid

MUST BE BUILT OF STONE

Suggesting that a new bridge be built over the Delaware River at Yardley and stating that the same can be accomplished without expense to Pennsylvania or New Jersey, J. Borton Weeks, president of the Keystone Automobile Club, outlines a plan.

In a letter to Clarence J. Buckman, chairman of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission, Mr. Weeks said the club is advised that funds for the project can be made available through WPA, provided the bridge is constructed of stone masonry, affording a maximum of manual labor. Essential materials, he asserted, can be obtained from WPA under a provision recently made effective which authorizes the allocation of cash for materials and rental of equipment to the extent of 11 per cent of the total amount of money expended for labor.

With construction of a new bridge at Yardley, the club official points out, Pennsylvania would be in a position to "cash in" on the expenditure of some $600,000 for the four-lane Lincoln highway extending 5.8 miles from Janney Station to "dead end" five miles short of its ultimate destination at Yardley because of continued failure of Pennsylvania and New Jersey to get together on bridge plans.

According to Mr. Weeks, Pennsylvania has stood ready to carry out the provisions of a law authorizing construction of the bridge with 50 per cent Federal participation in the cost. New

Deep In Thought

(By "The Stroller")
Now we know that physicians have a lot to think about but the other day one well-known Bristol practitioner deep in thought came near driving off with a car other than his own. We don't know, but perhaps he was thinking about going fishing or perhaps he had the condition of some very ill patient on his mind.

The medical man, while pondering, left a residence on Linden street, and with head down went directly to what he thought was his own car. He opened the door and was about to step inside when he suddenly awoke from his thoughtful attitude.

Glancing around in more or less embarrassed fashion, the doctor made steps to his own car and drove off.

Some of his friends who were watching said nothing but made note of the fact for the Stroller.

WILLIAM A. THOMAS IS INJURED IN AN UNUSUAL ACCIDENT

Langhorne Principal Believed To Have Been Unconscious Several Hours

BREAKS THREE RIBS

Five Others Hurt in Accidents at Dunks Ferry Road and at Parkland

William A. Thomas, Langhorne, supervising principal of Langhorne-Middletown public schools, was injured in a most unusual accident early Friday morning, near Nanticoke.

He has three broken ribs, suffered from shock and numerous bruises, and also suffered from exposure, as the result of the crash in which his car was considerably damaged.

Mr. Thomas was found by a passing motorist at six o'clock Friday morning just outside Nanticoke, as he attempted to get his car under power. It is believed that he had been injured about five hours previous, and evidently remained at the scene of the accident in a dazed or unconscious condition from the time of the crash.

The educator had been visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. Jennie Garbett, Nanticoke, and left for his home in Langhorne shortly after midnight. It is believed that inasmuch as there was a light rainfall he was either blinded by lights of an approaching machine, skidded, or was crowded from the thoroughfare. The Thomas car, while on a curve, struck a pole at the side of the road, rebounded, and tumbled down an embankment from 15 to 20 feet. The car landed in an upright position.

It is thought that Thomas may have been thrown from the vehicle, his eyeglasses being found at the top of the embankment. He was taken to the home of his sister in Nanticoke, where he is to remain for a few days.

The machine, although considerably damaged, was taken from the scene under its own power.

A hitch-hiker, 18 years of age, was injured Saturday evening, when it is alleged that a second machine cut into the line of traffic in which the car of Wesley Civiński, Trenton, N. J., was being operated on the Lincoln Highway at Parkland. The Civiński machine overturned.

Riding with Civiński was Leonard Colvin, 18, of New York City, who sustained a long cut at the top of his forehead, 18 stitches being required to close the wound. He was taken to Harriman Hospital for treatment, where he still remains. Colvin also has contused wound of the knee.

Civiński's injuries were slight, he having bruises and cuts, and after treatment in the same institution he was discharged.

The two were removed from the scene of the accident by Bucks County Rescue Squad.

In a crash on Dunks Ferry Road, Saturday evening, Charles Wright, of Sixth avenue, Croydon, received a laceration of the chin, and lacerations of the hand. Louis Shipper, Norristown, and William Laddy, Fourth avenue, Croydon, were treated at the scene by Bucks County Rescue Squad members. Wright was taken to Harriman Hospital.

Colored Man Slashed With Broken Pitcher

A colored man was painfully cut about the chest, chin and face Saturday afternoon when it is alleged he refused to wash some dishes after eating despite the protest of a woman in the house.

The cutting, according to Lillian Hoagland, 44, who is alleged to have slashed James Waples, 25, both of 813 Lake street, was done with a broken pitcher.

The Hoagland woman and Waples boarded at the same address and Waples is alleged to have insisted on eating despite the protest of Lillian. She contended that Waples should not eat in the absence of the woman of the house, but Waples went ahead and ate.

An argument ensued and when Waples refused to wash the dishes, is said to have been struck with a broken pitcher. He was cut about the chest, lip, chin, and bridge of nose. The gash in the chest required eight stitches. He was treated at the Harriman Hospital.

During the argument Waples accused the Hoagland woman of taking $1.50 which did not belong to her. This she denies.

Miss Hoagland was given a hearing before Justice of Peace Edward Lynn and held in $1,000 bail for court.

DISPLAY NEW STYLES
FOR THOSE WHO PLAN
TO VISIT THE FAIR

Miss Edna Stephany

Home Economics Representative. Summer travel is at its height and feminine visitors in New York are not limiting their attention to world's fair sights.

The New York designers and the stores have prepared many fall dresses in advance of the usual season in honor of these guests. What woman could go to New York and not be interested in the lovely clothes prepared for her inspection?

The first question will be "What are the new colors?" Each fall brings new and different versions of our old friends, for after all, there are but six colors. "Which ones will be coming?" "Which will fit into the color plan of my wardrobe?" These are the questions every woman asks herself.

Black always makes a dramatic appearance at this midsummer or early autumn season. Black is always a favorite for several reasons; it is a welcome change after summer prints and white; it is becoming with the well-developed summer tan; it is a perfect background for the gold costume jewelry which this winter will be a definite part of the dress, in the form of necklaces, clips or pins. White crisp neckwear, as well as the newest shades in collars, cuffs and toppers, are excellent on black.

Dark brown, the brown of tree trunks, is growing in popularity. Blues are soft and grayish. There are also the very dark and the olive shades of green and always the good fall shades—wine, reds, and purple shades.

ON THE SCREENS

BRISTOL THEATRE

There has come from Hollywood a new comedy, one which follows naturally the overwhelming idea that Paris in the Spring is the only place in the world worth knowing. Columbia's "Good Girls Go to Paris," which co-stars Melvyn Douglas and Joan Blondell at the Bristol Theatre, not only centers about a young woman's ambition to see the Eiffel Tower but proves that America is equally as glamorous and as exciting.

Miss Blondell is seen as a young waitress in a mid-western campus tearoom who plans to "take" some rich man's son for a lot of money, in order that she may go to Paris and enjoy a more hectic life. Her frankly predatory antics are exceedingly bewildering to the young English professor played by Mr. Douglas.

ROHM & HAAS NINE BEATS HALL TEAM AND WINS SERIES

Chemical Workers Will Now
Meet Diamond Nine For Championship

FINAL SCORE — 2 TO 1

Hall Aluminum Musters Only
Nine Hits Off
Cervello

Paul Cervello and Ralph Stomp gave an excellent performance of a pitching duel Saturday afternoon on Landreth's field as the Rohm and Haas nine nosed out the Hall Aluminum team, 2-1. The triumph gave the chemical workers the series crown and the right to meet the Diamond team for the championship of the Bristol Twilight League.

Five hits were all the Hall team could muster off the delivery of the right-handed Rohm and Haas moundsman. He struck out four and gave up but one pass. An error in the final inning gave the airplane workers their only marker.

Stomp was equally as good as Cervello on the mound. He ran into trouble in the initial frame when three errors helped the Rohm and Haas clan to both of their tallies. From then on he settled down and aided by good support blanked the ultimate winners. The winners were given both of their runs on a silver platter. After Jeffries had fled out, Dick hit an easy bounder to Sagolla at second. Sagolla fumbled the ball. Dougherty pounded out a double to left, Dick stopping at third. Massella hit to Sagolla who again fumbled and Dick counted. On the double-steal play, Dougherty scored and Massella reached second safely. Oppman hit a fly to left which McCrane dropped, but Oppman went out trying for second. Black fled out to Stomp.

Hall scored its only run in their final turn with the stick. Two were away when Gallagher shot an easy roller at Locke who made the ball get away from him. Gallagher stole second and also third when Oppman made a second attempt to tag him run off the bag and was trapped between third and the plate. He was tagged out but Dougherty dropped the ball and the runner scored.

"Chick" Oppman played a bang-up game at third base for the winning combination. He handled eight chances, flawlessly and several times stopped threatening rallies with fine stops. Harry Bauroth and Leo Forman were the stars on the defense for the losers. Johnny Dougherty, with two doubles and a single in four trips to the plate and Vic Rockhill with two out of three were the leading batters of the afternoon.

Stomp was aided by two fast double-plays. In the second one, Bunny Brunner, one of the fastest runners in the circuit, was involved when he hit a bounder to third and was doubled up with Locke on the 5-4-3 play.

No Fights Tonight

According to a telegram received by the Courier the fights booked for St. Ann's arena have been postponed and will not be held tonight. It was stated in the message that Nick Rabin, Allentown, booked to meet Willie Reddish, colored heavyweight from Philadelphia, had injured his back yesterday while training.

Rather than put on an inferior opponent for Reddish it was decided to call off the entire show.

LANDRETH NINE BAT WAY TO 5 TO 1 VICTORY

With the top of the batting order leading the attack the Landreth team defeated the Vineland club of the South Jersey League yesterday afternoon at Landreth Ball Park, 5-1. The Farmers bunched nine of their eleven hits off Lefty Frank Kinkle, the visiting hurler, in three innings—the first, third and fifth—to account for four runs while in the seventh Eddie Liberator's two base hit and steal of third and Ambrose's wild throw let in the fifth.

Howard Black kept the visitors' hits well scattered till the seventh and would have scored a shut out but for an error. In this evening Costello dropped Rossi's throw to first base on Rochetti's grounder and after Shapiro fanned Kinkle and Chilli hit singles for their run.

Eddie Liberator's all around playing and the hitting of Rockhill, Miksis and Lodge were the features.

Wednesday night at 6 o'clock the Landreth team will play their last twilight game of the season at Landreth Park when they meet the J. F. Thorne team of Phila., first half champions of the Industrial League. Some of the best semi-pro players in Philadelphia play with this club. Sunday they will again play at home playing away Monday, Landreth Day.

BRISTOL A. A. LOSES TO PEN-MAR, SCORE, 9 TO 7

In a slugging match at 56th and Haverford avenue yesterday, the Pen Mar club of the South Phila. League defeated the Bristol A. A. club by the score of 9 to 7. The A. A. slugged the ball hard, getting 16 hits to the Pen Mar club's 9, but the passes handed out by the A. A. hurlers was the cause of their downfall, losing to the Phila. club 9 to 7. Zefferies started but was relieved by Dick in the fourth inning after yielding 3 runs. Dick was tagged for the 4th run in the 4th inning but settled down and they could do nothing until the 8th inning, when a base on balls, an error and a two base hit by V. Stella was the deciding marker. Zefferies had a perfect day, getting a home run, double and two singles. Hughes had 3 hits, Dick had 3 hits. Palowez and Hunter had two each. The A. A. club plays at Cape May, N. J., on Saturday, September 2nd.

AT THE CAPITOL

(By International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 28.—The trials of Roy E. Brownmiller, James P. Kirk, Victor S. Skok, and Heber H. Temple in the State's first two graft trials represented just the preliminaries to the most important trial of them all, that of David L. Lawrence, chairman of the Democratic State Committee. — The conviction of three out of four defendants in the first two trials heightened the public interest in the outcome of the third, which is scheduled to open September 25.

The trial of Lawrence, a former Secretary of the Commonwealth under Democratic Gov. George H. Earle, will mark the highlight of almost a year-and-one-half-old charges which were first leveled against the Earle Administration by Charles J. Margiotti, then an Administration Cabinet member and Attorney General — - Lawrence, State Democratic Chairman, was a constant attendant at the trial of Kirk, who is Allegheny County Democratic Chairman and a close friend of Lawrence — - Lawrence's trial will be followed by that of another Earle Cabinet official, Ralph M. Bashore, former Secretary of Labor and Industry — - Bashore is also Secretary of the Democratic State Committee.

The agenda for the special session of the Legislature, a foregone conclusion in the minds of most politicians and State legislators, is already a subject of conjecture — - the chief reason for the special session, which probably will be called some time this Fall or Winter, will be the appropriation of further relief funds — - there is always the possibility, of course, that Gov. Arthur H. James may include other subjects in his special call — - one of them is possibly an anthracite bill — - another, a charter bill for Philadelphia, this in the event of a Democratic victory in Philadelphia, a distinct possibility in the opinion of political soothsayers who profess to know their Quaker city politics — - the Republicans last session defeated a Philadelphia charter bill by killing it in House committee after it passed the Senate.

Possibly less than 50% of the qualified voters will go to the polls on September 12 to vote in Pennsylvania's primary election — - it is estimated that 4,647,000 are entitled to vote but the absence of hot issues and the scarcity of State posts being filled has aroused but little interest among voters — - four Appellate judgments are being filled this year, but there has been no undue excitement over them — - most of the interest lies in local contests and in local option fights over the wet-dry issue — - the last-named issue will give non-partisan voters a chance to vote in the primary — - latest registration figures show 44,019 voters without a party label.

MILL STREET BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION OF BRISTOL

Jersey's authorization, however, provides for 100 per cent Federal expenditure.

"The situation, in these circumstances, has heretofore appeared hopeless," said Mr. Weeks, "but it now develops that the 11 per cent WPA allocation of cash for materials, on top of Government assumption of the entire labor cost, will make possible construction of the bridge without expense to either State."

Developing the possibilities in his letter to the Bridge Commission, Mr. Weeks continued:

"We are informed that the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission under existing statutes may apply for a WPA project and secure the entire amount of money necessary to construct such a bridge from Federal funds without recourse to State financing in either State in any way—the funds being appropriated to the project in equal proportion from the Federal WPA funds allocated to the two States.

"We are advised that this project may be accomplished by means of a WPA grant for labor, and if such a structure is built of stone masonry with the stone quarried on or near the site, the only materials necessary to be purchased would be the cement and enough timber to construct the false work. Even the sand and part of the timber cutting may be handled through WPA labor.

"Such expenditures as may be necessary for purchases of cement and rentals of equipment could be obtained also through WPA under the provision which authorizes the allocation of cash for such material purchases and equipment rentals to the extent of 11 per cent of the total amount of money expended for labor. For example—if one million dollars were expended for labor in quarrying stone, getting out timber, dredging sand, laying stone masonry, erecting false work and building the super-structure, $110,000 in addition thereto would be allocated out of WPA funds for the purchase of cement, explosives, timber, rental of equipment, and such other materials as could not be provided by manual labor upon or in the vicinity of the structure. The figures used, of course, are purely hypothetical and are not intended to be an estimate of the cost of the bridge.

"Steps necessary for prosecution of the project would be the preparation of preliminary plans for the structure, the submission of an application to the joint WPA administrators of the two States through the highway commissioners and upon approval the carrying out of the work with labor and material obtained locally from the two adjacent counties. If such labor is not available in sufficient force in one particular county it could be diverted from other counties nearby.

"Undoubtedly your Commission through its engineering department, has already made studies and estimates of this project and it very probably has plans for a stone arch structure completed in sufficient detail to serve for the preliminary application.

"This program is submitted to your Commission in the earnest hope that it may be found feasible and that this long delayed improvement may be carried to successful completion.

"Our interest in this structure is one of long standing and we have continuously endeavored to secure means through legislation and consultation with Federal and State authorities to consummate this project."

Observers regarded as significant the fact that German afternoon papers prominently displayed the fact that the supreme council of U. S. S. R. is meeting in Moscow today to hear a speech on foreign policies by Vyacheslav M. Molotov, premier and foreign commissar.

Whether closer co-operation with Moscow in the present crisis, such as open pressure on Warsaw, will become evident, was awaited in Germany with keen interest.

"I saved a dollar today"

It's a great satisfaction to look over the day's accounts and find you've been able to save money by careful buying.

Knowing where to buy is part of the trick. But knowing how to buy is a bigger part. The wise "business manager" of the home plans her shopping as skillfully as a business man plans to spend a thousand dollars.

Advertisements help greatly, of course. On daily necessities like meats, fruits, vegetables, they show you how to save 2c here, 3c there, adding up to much. But advertisements are just as helpful on larger purchases — furniture, draperies, motor cars, clothing. Followed carefully, advertising saves you money all down the line — - helps you run the household more economically — - gives the budget a chance to breathe!
